

CITIZEN GROUP HERE SEEK FLOOD CONTROL

Steps were taken last night at a citizen's meeting in the Campbell High School seeking that the County Board of Supervisors give first priority, or at least high priority, to the control of San Tomas Aquino Creek flood waters. Mark Thomas, city engineer, outlined the control plan and sentiment was strongly in favor of the county backing the project.

Campbell was the originator of the plan for county-wide flood control.

Property owners, civic organization leaders and subdividers were all in accord. Thomas said that San Tomas Aquino Creek in the vicinity of Campbell, has been recognized by the county engineer as one of the critical drainage problems in the County and that it is one in which there is actual danger to life.

A petition signed last night by the citizens' committee is expected to be in time for action this year by the Board of Supervisors.

George Prime, flood control engineer for the county explained the flood areas of the county and said other sections have already filed for first priority in apportionment of the $480,000 revolving fund being set up in the county by a ten cent tax levy on all property. There are five flood zones and three men per zone on a 15-man committee. City Engineer Mark Thomas said it may take as much as six million dollars for channel improvement and that some flood waters may be diverted to Los Gatos Creek channel.

San Tomas Aquino Creek follows through the westerly end of Campbell to Santa Clara, a densely populated area, George Nolte, subdivision engineer, pointed out. C. E. Bradley, business manager for the Campbell Union Grammar School district, said the playground at one of the schools is sometimes submerged in water one foot to a foot and a half deep, also that the district owns a site on Hazelwood avenue where development is held back because of potential flood dangers. Mr. Parker of the San Tomas Improvement Club said septic tanks do not function properly under flood conditions thus affecting health conditions. County Supervisor Walter Gaspar of Los Gatos said there is to be a five-man committee set up, one representative from each zone with an engineer over them, to whom the board will eventually refer the requests for flood control monies.

Homer Hyde of the Campbell Water Company said population in the San Tomas Creek area is an important factor, and this was made a part of the petition. Copies are available for signing here, but they must be filed with the Board of Supervisors by Monday.

Moreland School District Sets Fund Election Date

Moreland School District has called an election for September 29 to authorize the Board of Trustees to accept funds not to exceed $300,000 from the California State Department of Finance for the purpose of constructing a unit of classrooms including a kindergarten on a school site on the corner of San Tomas Aquino Road and Bucknall Roads.

It will not be necessary to hold a bond election as the district is already bonded to the maximum, but the voters must vote to accept the loan from the state and agree to repay it if the district is able to do so.

This loan will not increase the district's tax rate as the district will not be required to pay anything on the loan until the assessed valuation of the district is much greater than it is now.

Any funds remaining after the school is constructed will be used to purchase additional sites as the needs of the district increase.

Polling places will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m. at Moreland School on Payne Ave, and at El Quito Park School on Bucknall Road.

School opens September 13th. The Cafeteria at Moreland will be open on the first day and will be under the management of Mrs. Marion Pankoski and Mrs. Adeline Vieira.

Service Funds Aid 9 Agencies

Dr. W. B. Morell stated at Tuesday night's meeting of the Campaign Committee of the Community Service Fund that if the 40,000 residents living in the Campbell Union High School District would keep in mind that they are being asked to support NINE different important youth and social organizations and would contribute accordingly the service fund drive on Sept. 30 would be a success.

The agencies submitting requests for aid are as follows:

Milk and Lunch Fund for the Union, Moreland, Campbell, and Cambrian schools in the amount of $1,800; Library Fund, $500; Visiting Nurse Association, $1,000; Campfire Girls, $3,000; Girl Scouts, $4,000; Boy Scouts, $5,000; Y. M. C. A., $1,124; Family Service Association, $2,091; and the United Defense Fund, $523. These agencies serve more than 40,000 persons in Cambrian, Campbell, Moorpark, Moreland, Quito, San Tomas and Union areas.

planners have set the evening of October 7 for a hearing. With the city council, the planners have indicated satisfactory plans will be approved.

The previous application was rejected without prejudice because of processing the master map at the time the application was made.

The James Clayton Company of San Jose in connection with a group of investors and developers are backing the new development which is expected to amount to one million dollars. The previous project and application was presented by Charles Arns, agent for the developers.

The new plans will call for 60,000 square feet being developed, 15,000 to be for a super market. There will be 500 front feet of store space with each of the stores being 70 to 85 feet in depth and there will be parking spaces provided on a 4-1 ratio. The general type of architecture is to be of early California or modern.

The planners last Thursday turned thumbs down on the application of Lewis H. Smith to rezone lots in Shady Acres on Harrison Street from single family to multiple family. A petition with 181 signatures of neighboring property owners protested the zone changing on a contention their property valuation would be changed. David Knapp and Smith contended construction of duplexes do not lessen property values.

Property owners said their homes were valued at from $16,000 to $18,000 and one man said his was worth $26,000. The commission in denying the application cited the majority of property owners seeking this action and the lack of evidence that the proposed change would be beneficial. Glen McClelland and Reed Nielsen were spokesmen for petitioners.

The commission approved a use permit for the First Methodist Church of Campbell for a five foot set-back variances to proceed with a new building on Winchester Road north of Latimer Avenue. Dean Chamberlin, chairman of the building committee, represented the church. Approval was also given an application by William Henley for architectural changes to buildings he has planned on South Winchester Road.

Yee said the market is the first of a sixteen-unit shopping center. When the market and service station are built, work may be expected to start on the second unit which will include a variety store, hardware, clothing store, television, beauty shop, restaurant and other business firms.

EDITORIAL

SAN TOMAS AQUINO CREEK

A meeting last night of public-spirited citizens advocated by petition to the Board of Supervisors that first priority be given flood control means for San Tomas Aquino Creek, along the westerly limits of Campbell.

Leonard Bushnell, County Engineer, has declared this to be a critical channel in the event of heavy rains which might flood farm lands and even endanger lives in the lower region north of Campbell. The County, too, plans a parkway along the course of the creek bank at some future date and this will not be undertaken unless flood waters are under proper control.

Campbell is interested in priority now because it is in this direction that city expansion seems destined for realization. The City Council and the Chamber of Commerce endorsed the appeal for immediate priority. It seems that flood control of San Tomas Aquino Creek is the key to much of our drainage problem; so for this reason alone, there should be no obstacle to prevent its accomplishment.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, CALIFORNIA

California was born just 104 years ago today. Those were troubled times in which Americans were in the minority—a time of great land holdings. Yet already the gold rush was bringing in thousands of people, and the lands were being found suited to farming and grazing.

In the last few decades, the population has multiplied and there is a new look on California's importance in industry and stability. You cannot underestimate the California of another decade, for it is forging ahead at a steady pace in every phase of economic development which will soon establish it as the most important state in the union.

BACK TO SCHOOL

The autumn season is sometimes referred to as the "melancholy days." That description is quite apt at this particular time for those members of society who, by the cruel laws of the land, are required to go to school. They feel the "injustice" of it all the more acutely as the last days of the long summer vacation gallop swiftly away.

However, there are others in our social system who look forward to the reopening of school with undisguised and boundless pleasure. They are known as mothers. Having had the little "wild Indians" in their hair constantly for three months, the prospects of getting rid of them for part of the day is wonderful. As for the youngsters, they have nothing to look forward to but school rallies, football games, parties, picnics and school plays, while they defend themselves against the efforts of teachers to educate them.

Despite this dismal outlook, no major revolt is expected from the students. Like good soldiers, they will bear up bravely and at the end of another school year will emerge with a certain amount of new knowledge clinging to them. They will learn how to get along better with others, how to be more useful citizens, and more efficient homemakers; they'll be encouraged in thrift through a school savings plan; they'll be taught the principles of democracy and fair play and be instructed in a variety of subjects.

Yes, it's tough to be young and have to go to school. But as we extend our deep sympathies to the junior citizens, we wish mightily that it could be our good misfortune to be in their shoes.

CALIFORNIA IN 1975

Despite the great things we anticipate for California in the decade ahead, predictions from those in the best position to see future developments can be startling.

That was the case in the forecast made by Carl F. Wente, former Bank of America president and now president of the California State Chamber of Commerce, at the State Fair breakfast last Saturday. He said that by 1975 California will be first in population with 21 million people and will have 12½ million cars on the road. When you consider that we now have about 12½ million residents and six million cars, the growth outlook is fantastic. Yet Mr. Wente was not merely trying to toss out figures. Nor was he stating a mere possibility; but, rather, a strong probability.

In the past, the State has usually outdone even the most optimistic predictions. The former bank head also believes that by 1975 the annual income in California will exceed $50 billion and that California will constitute the largest single market in America. But Mr. Wente doesn't believe that we're going to make these gains merely by waiting for them.

HIGH AD VOLUME

Advertising pays. It must, otherwise why would American businessmen lay out nearly $8 billion for it in a single year? That's what they did in 1953, the exact amount being $7,809,200,000, a gain of nearly ten percent over the previous year. As always, newspapers were the most popular medium, accounting for 33.9 percent of the total. Radio's share was 8.3 percent and television 7.8 percent. National advertisers made up 58 percent of the volume and local advertisers 42 percent, with the former increasing their space by more than ten percent over the previous year and the latter by more than seven percent.

AND AWAY THEY GO

The Campbell Gambol

FAIRS Reflect the activities and progress of the areas they represent, and our own County Fair received national recognition with an article this week in the Saturday Evening Post which refers to it as one of the largest of county fairs... there are three top County and State fairs this month for the travelers to see, the State Fair at Sacramento, the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona and the Santa Clara County Fair, the latter being the youngest, yet the third largest in California while the State Fair is second to the Pomona Fair in attendance... I took in the State Fair along with some 97000 others last Saturday, and attended the Governor's luncheon for the press, radio, television and public relations men, saw some of the excellent exhibits scattered about on the 207 acre site, went to the horse races but couldn't get a seat so left it and came back to the stage show in the evening where special seats in front of the stage were set up for the press and we met and heard Howard Keel in a group of his songs from movies, and saw other top-notch performers after which there was time for the horse-show, over night in Sacramento then a visit to the park on the capitol grounds where trees from every country in the world have been planted and saplings brought from every major battlefield of the civil war are now grown... up to the Sacramento Yacht Club and up the river to Knight's Landing, then by car to Woodland and on to Campbell... the Santa Clara Fair will be worth attending, as there will be numerous exhibits from the Campbell area, three in the commercial building.

MORE STORES Are soon to serve the Campbell area if plans for the four centers materialize, in which event the investments will be up in the millions... the Kuehn property Shopping Center at Hamilton and Los Gatos-San Jose Road has already been approved by the planners and by the city council, the Turturici Center on Hacienda was approved by the County planners, the Dick Yee center where Los Gatos Creek crosses the San Jose Road north of Hamilton avenue and the Herman Rice center on Winchester avenue for which there is an application pending, this time with the James Clayton firm as developers... at the same time the Chamber of Commerce is getting down to serious business making a few contacts for industry which we can use to advantage here...

SCHOOL BUSES Will be running next week as hundreds of students return to class-rooms... the Moreland School will use three rooms at the church to cope with their increased attendance, and they will introduce a new teacher, Miss Betty Ishimatsu, one of the first Japanese-American teachers in the Santa Clara County school system, a girl who is already working on her master's degree from Stanford and who has excellent qualifications... the Campbell Kiwanis Club on Tuesday awarded a scholarship to another Japanese-American, Marilyn Uyeda, who was graduated from Campbell High School last June with highest scholastic honors and who by popular vote was chosen president of the student body last spring.

The Secretary of Agriculture was given Cabinet status on February 11, 1889.

Coast Counties And PG&E Merged

Merger of the Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company into Pacific Gas and Electric Company was completed today when PG&E filed a certificate of ownership with the Secretary of State of California.

The filing in Sacramento was the final step in a process of consolidating the two utility properties which began late last year. During the process P&E acquired sole ownership of the Pacific Public Service Company and its subsidiaries, of which the Coast Counties company is the principal, and procured the necessary approvals of State and Federal regulatory agencies.

A total of 139,283 gas, electric and water customers of Coast Counties became PG&E customers today as a result of the merger. Continuity of utility service to the customers was not affected by the change, the Coast Counties properties already being interconnected with PG&E which has supplied Coast Counties with all of its electric power and some of its gas supply.

Numerous operational economies will be realized through the integration of administrative and service forces, and the Coast Counties area will be benefitted through receiving direct service from the vast gas and electric resources of PG&E. Coast Counties has served both electricity and natural gas in Santa Cruz, Watsonville, Gilroy, Hollister, Capitola, San Juan Bautista, Tres Pinos and Morgan Hill, numerous neighboring unincorporated communities and the adjacent rural territory.

Many state officers were escorted to honor seats including Mrs. Martin, State President; Miss Mary R. Rewcastle, Past President of the Rebekah Assembly; and now Secretary of the Assembly; Charles L. Snyder, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of California, and at present serving as Trustee of the Children's Home in Gilroy; Mrs. Ida Bruegge, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Children's Home; Mrs. Harry Rice, Trustee of the Children's Home; Mrs. Sidney Solomon, Conductor of the Rebekah Assembly; Miss Ida Belle Williams, Chaplain of the Rebekah Assembly; Miss Ruth LaVerne Bettinger, District Deputy of District No. 3; and Miss Edna Hesch, District Deputy from District No. 53.

Death of Otto Hake of Chowchilla, Calif., husband of the Jr. Past President of the Rebekah Assembly was announced by the President. Mr. Hake was well-known for his Rebekah-Odd Fellowship work all over the State of California.

Mrs. Lillian Ohlen, chairman for the evening introduced the program. Miss Helen Mullen gave two pantomimes, "The Four Clefs", a four-piece band of talented youngsters from Sunnyvale entertained with several numbers. At the close of their program, it was announced that they would play for the Odd Fellow-Rebekah Hallwe'en dance at the I. O. O. Hall in Sunnyvale on Oct. 30.

Highlight of the evening's entertainment was the presentation to the President of a miniature ceramic Bible with her motto "Do Good and be Happy", inscribed on it. The presentation poem was composed by a member of Ada Lodge, Mrs. Clara Beebe Baldwin, who also took part in the presentation and gave the President a copy of her recently published book, "Nuggets from the Mother Lode". Mrs. Dubois Rhine recited the presentation poem and the Noble Grand, Mrs. T. G. Fladager presented the gift to the President. Mrs. Jack Chappell sang, "Memories" during the presentation.

The President's message was an inspiring one about the good work and interesting Lodges which she has encountered in her travels throughout the State since her installation at Long Beach in May. She also brought a message from Mr. Charles Henderson, Grand Master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of the State of California that a state-wide blood bank is being formed to assist Rebekahs and Odd Fellows in the event that they or their families need donations of blood. Blood will be ready at all times free of any cost for any Rebekah or Odd Fellow belonging to the club, membership to be by donations of blood or by cash donations.

Theme for the evening's decorations was "Music in the Air". It was beautifully carried out in the President's colors red and silver. The Hall was canopied with red crepe paper with silvered notes hung in the streamers. The Noble Grand's station was backed with a musical clef with "Welcome Dorathea" as the notes on the staff. The Vice Grand's station was highlighted with a huge Bible with the President's motto, "Do Good and be Happy" inscribed on the open pages. Each officer's station had large glittered notes with sprays of deep red roses entwined around them fastened to the pedestals. Beautiful baskets of deep red roses at the Secretary and Treasurer's stations completed the picture.

Refreshments were served by the committee in the banquet hall following the close of the meeting. Serving on the committee with Mrs. Ohlen, were the following: Messrs. and Mesdames Walter Silberbauer, Julius Bachman, Herman Rice, Mesdames William Wrigglesworth, Dubois Rhine, John Morley, Ralph Gardner, Herb Wegner, Mr. Monte Estabrook, Mrs. Catharine Cole and Mrs. Margaret Wilson.

Family Service Group Active In Campbell Region

The Family Service Association of Santa Clara County, located at 148 West San Carlos Street, San Jose, is a non-sectarian agency which offers a preventive service—helping people to help themselves before they become divorce cases, juvenile delinquent cases, mental or criminal cases. It is a community teamwork of professionals and volunteers.

Families in the Campbell Union High School District services by the Family Service last year totaled forty-eight with a total of 288 family members affected.

Family Service Association is affiliated with the Community Chest, servicing the community and depending on the community for support. It provides counseling on a fee scale—adjusted to the person's ability to pay. In addition to counseling fees, membership fees, and monies received from the various Community Chest and Service Funds of Santa Clara County, this organization also conducts special money raising projects.

Highly trained social workers do the confidential counseling of troubled persons. They are the professional staff. At present, there is a large waiting list for appointments, and as a result these workers are all putting in overtime trying to keep up with the community's requests for service.

A large group of interested citizens makes up the membership of The Family Service Association and members are eligible for election to the Board which sets the policies. Civic-minded citizens from Campbell volunteer many hours attending committee meetings.

Without community support, a large percent of the clients would be forced to forego this service at the obvious cost of family breakup, delinquency and mental disease. This service is important to the 40,000 people living in the Campbell Union High School District, and the volunteers preparing plans for the Fund Drive to be launched September 30 feel certain that the people in this area will heartily support this agency as well as the other eight agencies asking for community support.

PG&E RELEASE TELLS GROWTH ON PENINSULA

Describing Santa Clara and San Mateo counties is difficult without using superlatives, the "P. G. and E. Progress," monthly publication of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, says in the September issue now being mailed to customers throughout the system, and to stockholders in all parts of the nation.

In an article devoted to the San Jose Division, which includes the two counties, emphasis is placed on "a decade of remarkable post-war expansion" and the fact that in 1953 alone there were 12,444 new homes connected to the PG&E gas and electric systems in the two counties.

While homes have gained the major attention in the expansion of both counties, the need for more industrial tax revenues has become apparent, and the article states, a determined effort is being made to attract additional plans to the area.

A canning industry responsible for 30 per cent of all fruits and vegetables canned in California heads Santa Clara County's industrial activities. San Mateo County's industries, with new electronics plants setting the pace, embrace hundreds of companies in various fields, and lead the neighboring county in growth, according to the PG&E article.

PG&E is the largest property taxpayer in each county, the tax bills for 1953 amounting to $1,079,311 in Santa Clara County and $1,179,001 in Santa Clara County.

Population of Santa Clara County is estimated at 370,000, according to the PG&E story, and that of San Mateo County at 335,984—each nearly a three-fold increase since 1940.

The story is one of a series being published in "P. G. and E. Progress" about each of the Company's 13 operating divisions.

'Post' Features Our County Fair

The current issue of The Saturday Evening Post features an article by Russell E. Pettit, manager of the Santa Clara County Fair.

Written in collaboration with Frank J. Taylor, it outlines the headaches and planning which go into this annual event at San Jose.

Pettit reveals that he spends a lot of time dreaming up gags that will give people reason for talking up the forthcoming fair, but admits that the dreamed-up gags are seldom as good as events that just happen, like the time the baby was born in a taxi at the main gate.

The author also explains how he strives to keep the fair clean, heading off the petty racketeers who consider fairs their hunting grounds and he reports there is no hesitation about tossing out vendors for overcharging customers as little as a nickel.

It is further reported that one of the secrets of a successful county fair is getting a lot of hobbyists to exhibit, something which inspires a lot of friends of hobbyists to come and buy tickets.

Pettit asks, "Where can you find democracy on display more drastically than at a county fair?"

He points out that in this country competition starts almost as soon as you learn to walk—in marbles, tops, kite flying, athletics, then lifework and hobbies.

In half an hour's stroll around the county fair, Pettit continues, you can see all ages and many races having their chance to show what they can do in competition and being judged by their peers.

STATE SENATOR SPEAKS HERE

Senator Jack Thompson was the featured speaker at a meeting last Thursday of the Campbell Council of Republican Women at the home of Mrs. M. J. Bohnett at 5 El Caminito.

"Legislative Procedure in Sacramento" was the topic of Senator Thompson's talk in which he highlighted the activities of the elected representatives of the people. He discussed the necessity of having lobbyists in Sacramento such as the school people send to assist the legislature in drawing up bills pertaining to special groups.

He also discussed his wish for longer sessions so that the great amount of material that comes to the floor of the legislature could be covered in current sessions.

Senator Thompson also spoke in favor of the separation of liquor control from the State Board of Equalization.

Mrs. Mary Jasper, past president of the State Council of Republican Women and current state historian, presented a sketch of the historical background of the Council of Republican Women in the State of California.

The membership voted to send Mrs. Hugh Whistler, president of the group, as delegate to the National Convention of Republican Women in Los Angeles Sept. 21 to 23. Mrs. George Ninis will attend as an alternate.

Major H. E. Lillingston, president of the Campbell Republican Assembly, announced that he has tickets for the GOP $100 dinner.

WORLD'S CHAMPION HORSESHOE PLAYER TO PERFORM AT FAIR

Santa Clara County Fair visitors this year will see one of the famed American sports at its best, horseshoe pitching, as an event of the week-long program starting Sept. 13. Guy Zimmerman, world champion, will fight for his laurels against Fernando Isais, state champion for the past seven out of eight years.

Isais, who wrested state championship honors from Zimmerman at the County Fair last year, lost his world championship title to Zimmerman only last month in Salt Lake City. Isais only managed to make 340 ringers out of 400 tries, while Zimmerman dropped in a net 356 to take the honors. Contestants seeking 12 winning spots to share in $480 prize money, will unlimber their pitching arms Friday afternoon, Sept. 17. Six tense games will be played on the 18th, and the final five on the 19th.

FINAL RITES FOR RESIDENT

Final rites were held Tuesday for Marion L. Toich, 72, retired San Francisco service station owner-operator, who died Saturday in a Campbell rest home.

A resident of Campbell for 16 years, his home was at 62 S. Third St., where his widow, Ivka, resides. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Kattie Young and three sons, Nick M., Marion L. Jr., and Maurice S. Toich, all of San Francisco. He was the brother of Matto Toich, of Campbell, and Danica Magasich of Fiume, Yugoslavia. He leaves several grandchildren and great-grandchildren. He was a native of Yugoslavia.

INDUCTEE TOPIC OF ADULT COURSE

Some 900 Campbell residents received in the mail last week the 26th annual booklet describing the coming offerings of the 1954-55 season in the San Jose Adult Education Department.

This figure of 900 is approximately the number of Campbell people who profited by participation last year, according to H. Price Webb, Director of Adult Education for the San Jose Unified School District.

It was in 1929 that the Adult Centers were founded, and since that time they have become one of the finest systems in the United States, and have been so honored on several occasions recently. Over 10,000 people benefited by being in the programs last year, and enrollment this year is expected to be even larger. The new school year will not only see more courses offered than ever before, a total of over 150, but also the most timely subjects in history. They range from such as California Political Problems to a course for new brides entitled "How to Plan and Prepare Meals".

A timely topic of what the family and inductee can expect is to be had under the title "My Son is Being Inducted".

Other topics include Economics, Business and Commerce, Philosophy, Psychology, Science, Fine Arts, Music, Crafts and General Academics. The Intercultural Division is concerned with English for the Foreign Born, Citizenship and other similar topics.

A practice has been called for 10:00 a. m. on the same morning.

The prohibition amendment was ratified January 16, 1919.

Santa Clara County Fair Queen Sandy Bistline, of Cupertino, and her two princesses, Carol Vivensi, of San Jose, and Coraleen Jurian, of Coyote, extend an invitation to all residents of the county to attend the 10th Annual Fair, Sept. 13 through 19.
